TUESDAY, MAY 1, 1906.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was

4,174

copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

May this month serve us better than it did on the first day of it.

A good many men took a sly vacation in Vermont today.

The grim reaper is making serious inroads into the ranks of Montpelier's citizens and picking off its youngest and best men.

Citizens will be interested in the library communication on another page of this issue, as it recalls some of the details of the gift by the late Leonard F. Albridge.

This landing of the mayor of Pitts-bury because he refused to accept a loan ball pass is a trifling premature.
 Let's find out first if he knows a hat from a skiffy stick.

If the city is going to prohibit the use of water to clean the sidewalks on Main street, it ought first to stop the poisonous spitting on sidewalks.
 Without the use of water our Main street sidewalks will soon become a greater disease breeder than the poorest slums in our largest cities.

FINE CHANCE FOR DEMOCRATS AND SOCIALISTS.

The suspicion that union men have of Fletcher D. Proctor and the expressed opposition of Percival W. Clement to some of their plans will have a tendency to drive a considerable number of voters into the Socialist ranks for this year.
 While the Democratic candidate for governor will have a steeper following than usual, provided he grasps the opportunity to espouse principles which are favored by union men. It seems to be a fine chance for both the Democrats and the Socialists of Vermont. If they put up strong men for the first place on the ticket, the Republican strength will be badly cut up.

DON'T BE A FISH HOG.

With the opening of the trout season in Vermont brooks today the pent-up enthusiasm of the anglers is let loose in large volumes, and generally to little avail, for Vermont weather on the first day of May is not always conductive to good sport. This year it is not likely to be different than usual.
 It is, perhaps, needless therefore to urge fishermen not to be hogish, but to enjoy their sport within reason and then stop. But if there be those who Do not monkey with cheap clothing. It's not good enough for you to wear or for us to sell. This is a man's store. Everything to wear for men and boys. The store where the wife and mother will find the best clothing for the masculine member of the family.

Today we make a special showing of the new Grey Suits. Also blue serge suits and the Walkover Shoes for Men.

wish to skin the brooks at the first try and are likely to meet with success beyond anticipation, it may be proper again to call to their attention a section of the amended trout law, which forbids the catching of more than ten pounds of brook trout within a day.
 This law not only puts a check on fish hogs, but tends to prevent the entire extermination of the gamey tribe.
 Another don't is: Don't fish in any way but angling. The penalty for trout caught in any other way is five dollars each.
 Again bear in mind that the penalty for catching brook trout for sale or gain is five dollars per fish.
 Such regulations as these are found necessary to properly tie the down those who would strip the trout brooks.
 Don't be a hog, not merely because there is a penalty for so being, but from a wholesome desire to preserve the fishing in Vermont waters.

INCIDENTS AND THINGS
COLLECTED IN THE NET

The echo of a laugh caused by an incident at a recent rummage sale, conducted by the Civic Federation, is still heard in Barre.

One of the prominent women of the city, who may be called Mrs. A., wore a beautiful and costly new bonnet to the sale one afternoon, and on starting to help out removed the bonnet and placed it on the counter, unnoticed by the others. Another of the helpers, also a prominent woman, easily named Mrs. B., came along soon afterwards and spied the bonnet. Mrs. B. pounced upon the piece of head-gear with avility and inwardly thanked the generous donor of such a fine article to be disposed of as a bit of rummage.
 Hurrying to Mrs. C. she exclaimed:
 "What price shall we put on this?"

It's An Insignificant Little Thing

But the tiny thread the silkworm produces is the most wonderful little strand woven into fabric. Its beautiful sheen, capable of looking many colors, has endeared it to the feminine heart as no other fabric yet produced. But fabrics are not the only thing the product of this tiny bundle of blood-less flesh that lives on the mulberry tree is capable of. Works of art from skilled artists have delighted the eye and ornamented homes and that for more than 4000 years. Women who have learned to work Silk into fine linen, cotton and wool find it a fascinating art and this work is sought by the artistic the world over.

Now we want to interest women in Silk Embroidery, so we have secured one of America's leading embroidery artists to do it, Miss Anna Calden of New York, who will show finished work and teach (free of charge) design and stamp. Your inspection is solicited.
